TO-DAY'S ELECTION.

The Voting Commenced Slow, But Graw Brisk.

Election day opened in town dull, cold and dreary and the poll men reluctantly took their places at the windows. The voters were slow in getting around and most of the morning poll-window work was the dullest of occupations.

Towards noon things became a little more brik and the votes commenced to plie upon each other in the respective boxes, but it was the opinion of some experienced politicisms that if some hustling was not done before 7 p. m. the polling would be light, even for an off year.

A feature of the election is the interest taken in Judge Green's candidacy. He was running away ahead this morning and men who are seldom known to interest themselves actively in the politics had off their coats and were working like beavers for him. It the doughty little jurist is defeated it will be one of the greatest political surprises over given this town.

A visit to the polls at noon was rewarded by tales of slowness and indifference. In the First and Fifth wards the voters were especially slow in getting out, the former having but 62 votes cast and the latter but 79. One Republican in the Fifth said there was something in his bones that told him Smith might get a majority there. The other pollings up to noon were: 2nd ward, 87; 3rd, 153; 4th, 66.

ENGOURAGING!

ESTIMATES ON THE RESULTS OF TO-DAY'S ELECTION.

BRILLIANT REPUBLICAN OUTLOOK

Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusatts, Iowa and New York Likely to go Republican - Figures

Warrant the Expectation.

The prospects for the Republicans scoring victories at the elections being held to-day are very promising. In Pennsylvania the itriation is particularly bright. This year the Republican party is united, the leaders are working hand in hand and the candi dates are selections from among the mo popular men of the state. Estimating all the losses of last year at a high figure, taking into consideration the fact that the R-publican party is united this year, and figuring on the results in elections when the party has been united, it is safe to say that Pattison's majority of 17,000 will be wiped out and Gregg and Morrison will turn the tables completely over, Creary and Shields will be elected in Philadelphia and that city will, in all probability, give the state ticket 20,000 majority. Alleghany, Lancaster, Bradford, Black Chester and Delaware counties are expected to give eyen better than the d-time majorities. Lieutenant-Governor iouble that. Aye, 40,000 majority would not be surprising,

So far as Ohio, Massachusetts and Iowa are concerned the Democrats concede they are doubtful. This concession may be taken as an admission that the states will go Republican. Indeed, the friends of Governor Russell admit that he cannot be re-elected Governor of Massachusetts, New York is claimed by the Democrats notwithstanding the party is divided, that there is a large decrease of registrations in the Democratic districts, that the registrations in the Republican districts have been increased, and that the Republican party i While thus handicapped the Democrats will be kept bury trying to catch up with the 80,000 Republican majority above Harlem Bridge. From the best figuring the city below the bridge will not give more than 56,000 Democratic majority and 10,000 more is expected from Kings county. This would still leave the Republicans 14,000 ahead. Fassett's election would not be a surprise.

The Ladies' Favorites.

By perusing the pages of the French ashion Journals republished in English by A. McDowel & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York, it can readily be understood how they have become "the favorites" with ladies. I shed in Paris by different publishers, they are the leading fashion ournals of the "Old World." It is not, therefore, a matter for surprise that unblased critics should have pronounced them the best fashion journals ever offered. to the American public. It would be strange, indeed, if ladies did not give up the inferior helion magazines which they have hitherto patronized for these handsome journals, which are known to be a nonth about of all others in giving the styles, and contain such valuable practical lessons in the art of cutting and making dresses. La Mode de Paris and Album des Modes are rivals f r the first place, single copies being 35 conts each, or $3.50 per annum. La Mode, the family magazine, is only 15 cents a copy, or $1.50 a year.
